When you need to put an accurate value on a claim, size up opposing counsel, or do background research on expert witnesses, VerdictSearch.com is the first place to turn.

The screenshot displays the VerdictSearch.com website's Advanced Case Search page. The page has a red header with the logo and navigation links (Home, Log out, Help, Advertise). Below the header is a navigation bar with links to SEARCH THE DIRECTORY, PRODUCTS & SERVICES, FEATURED RESOURCES, ABOUT VERDICTSEARCH, and ADVANCED SEARCH. The main content area is titled "Advanced Case Search" and includes several search sections:

- Search By Report Type / State: Features dropdown menus for Report Type (All, Arbitration, Decision, Mediation, Settlement, Verdict-Defendant) and State (All, Alabama, Alaska, Arizona, Arkansas, California). It also includes fields for ALM Index #, Sort Results By (Date), and Display Results (Summary View). A "Search Now!" button is present.
- Search By Name: Includes input fields for Expert Name, Attorney Name, Judge Name, Party Involved, and Insurance Carrier.
- Additional Search Details: Contains fields for Type of Injury, Venue, Area of Expertise, Case Type, Primary Type, and Secondary Type. It also includes links to download guides for each category.
- Plaintiff Information: Includes fields for Age From, Age To, Gender, Date Start, and Date End.
- Full Text Search: A large text input field for searching by full text.

On the right side of the page, there are "Search Tips" sections with numbered instructions:

1. Enter your search terms. This can be a full or partial name, a court or venue name, an injury type, a case type, or a course of action. Keep in mind that you will get more results if you use fewer, more general search terms (such as "Smith" or "Motor Vehicle") and fewer results if you use more specific terms (such as "Jonathan Smith" or "Fractured Fibula").
2. Select a date range, or use the default selection.
3. Select a sort results option, or use the default selection.
4. Select a display view, or use the default selection.
5. Click the "Search Now!" button.
6. The resulting page will contain the most recent verdict reports that matches your search term.
